JUNE INVENTORY

By Eleanor Graham.

I TAKE an inventory now and then
To see what thing I own. Now once again
I find that I am wealthy. There's the sky,
Bright blue with snowy lambkins racing by,
Bumping their heads in foolish childlike ways.
There's sunshine, and the drowsy summer haze
That gives excuse for laziness. There's rain
That breaks the heat as suddenly as pain
Is dulled by gentle hands. Then there nights
Of quivering softness pierced by little lights
From fireflies and stars. And there are trees
That seem to laugh with every little breeze
That ruffles them. And there are fields of wheat.
And grass grows even by a city street.
No matter what my fortunes, these will be
Possessions I may keep eternally.

SIX ADVENTUROUS C.C.C. MEN

Six of our fellow camp members left Camp Marshall Saturday night at seven o'clock. They went into the forest to trod upon land never before crossed by white man. Of such hardy nature were our pioneer forefathers fashioned- Daniel Boone, Kit Carson and Buffalo Bill. These embryo adventurers were J. Gayle, Missildine, Eberhart, Ted Foster, Bogue, J. Hovespian.

They set into the woods towards the Great North West and hiked six miles. That seemed to be the limit of their endurance so they pitched camp for the night on the bank of the Suwannee River. A swim was enjoyed in the chilly water and then they consumed a light lunch. Rolling up in Army Blankets, the half dozen "ho-mon" soon fell asleep.

The glorious sunrise saw them taking a plunge into the enticing river.

After an invigorating swim, they exp plored the river banks for alligator caves, buried treasures of the historical Spanish settlers, and what-not. Delicious ice cold spring water was unearthed and partaked of by these Twentieth Century Don Quixotes. Several interestin caves were discovered and explored.

Having satisfied their curiousity they returned to their make-shift camp, Missildine, Eberhart and Bogue got Missildine's fishing gig and returned to an under ground cave to fish.

The cave is two hundred feet long and twenty feet underground. Alligator tracks lined the banks of this subterranean passageway.

Upon arrival at their river location, they awaited the return of Jimmie Hovsepian, who had been sent to Camp Marshall to get a left-handed frying pan. It seems that Jim lost his way he had a fine time finding the river camp.

Taps was heard so the weary wanderers headed for home. They bid Au Revoir until their next expedition.

THE EAGLES EYE VIEW

With a "borrowed" generator here in camp we have been enjoying excellent lighting service for the past week. The old plant has been sent in for repairs.

A letter from Camp Educational Advisor Leo L. Foster, of Hinesville, Georgia, and formerly of this camp, states that he expects to win his league baseball title and play us for the District title. We greatly appreciate Mr. Foster's very favorable "sight-unseen" estimate of our team. We shall live up to it or "bust".

Those who enjoy the privalege of indulging in an after-dinner siesta these hot days are the lucky ones if they can find a place cool enough.

Rain brings its advantages and disadvantages. The base-ball diamond suffered from erosion during the recent rains; at the same time rainy weather has caused the fleas to be more careful where they hopped.

Emerging from the "hog pen" initial appearance, the log cabin bow has windows and doors cut in it. If it keeps on it's bound to be a house, and a classy one at that.

The excellent spirit shown by the boys of Company 453 when they took a licking here last Saturday drew favorable comment from all who saw the game. We congratulate Mr. Griffin, their Educational Advisor, and his boys for their splendid sportsmanship. Athletics are aimed for the development of teamwork and sportmanship. We venture the statement that Company 453 is winning despite the fact that the score decrees otherwise. They are winning something for themselves more valuable that mere baseball prestige.

WITH THE C.E.A.

Magazines are now coming in. Up to the present time most of the men have been reading them as fast as they come in. This is a good policy, let's keep up the good work. More will be coming in, in the future and we will need more readers.

The work in Journalism should be enlarged. We can use more men in the class and more reporters on the camp news paper. Why not take a hand in this work and begin writing news.

Typing class is full at present. But with the beginning of the new month it is possible that there will be a few opening If you are interested see Eadie at once so that you will not be left out.

It is possible to furnish tools and instructions for handicraft at the present. We would like to see a few men take this work up. There is a bright future in it.

Truck Driving class is going in full force and if there is anyone that has been left out you had better speak now. See Mr. Parnell in regard to this class. In the past some very interesting study has been carried on with the class and it is possible that it will continue.

We need some men to take part in the Leathercraft work. This work is very interesting and it should be very valuable and helpful to some of the men in camp. Why not start work as soon as possible.

Lawton has a real shorthand class and will take more if there is one interested in such.

Kurrus in willing to teach free hand drawing, see him if you are interested.

450 DEFEATS 453-Olustee

The Company 450 baseball team chalked up its second consecutive triumph of the season last Saturday afternoon on the local diamond at the expense of the Olustee 453 tossers by the score of 7 to 3. By winning this contest, our team went into a deadlock for the league leadership with Homerville, Ga. Each aggregation has won two and lost none.

Olustee started the game off with a tally in the first inning, but it was due to errors. Company 450 made up for the bad play by scoring twice in its half of the first inning, and also came back strong with three runs in the second frame. Marshall held the visitors scoreless up until the final canto when they pushed over two more runs. Our nine pushed over a run in the sixth and seventh for good measure. Marshall retired an even dozen batter via the shutout route.

White Springs collected 13 safe blows off Quilling, Olustee hurler, while Marshall held the 453 nine to seven safe smacks. Davis, with three hits out of five appearances at the plate, was the leading hitter of the day for the winners. Stafford with two for two, and R. E. Johnson, Guevara, and Collins, also collected two bingles, one of Collins' hits going for two bases. Bell led the hitting attack for the losers with two for four, one of his also going for a double.

Our team will make its first road trip of the season tomorrow afternoon when it journeys to Fargo, Ga. It will mark the second meeting with the Georgia team, White Springs having won the initial struggle here two weeks ago, 5 to 1. Our team is expected to have plenty of rooters along with them, as one or more trucks will be at the disposal of the members who care to make the trip with the team.

SAFETY MEETING

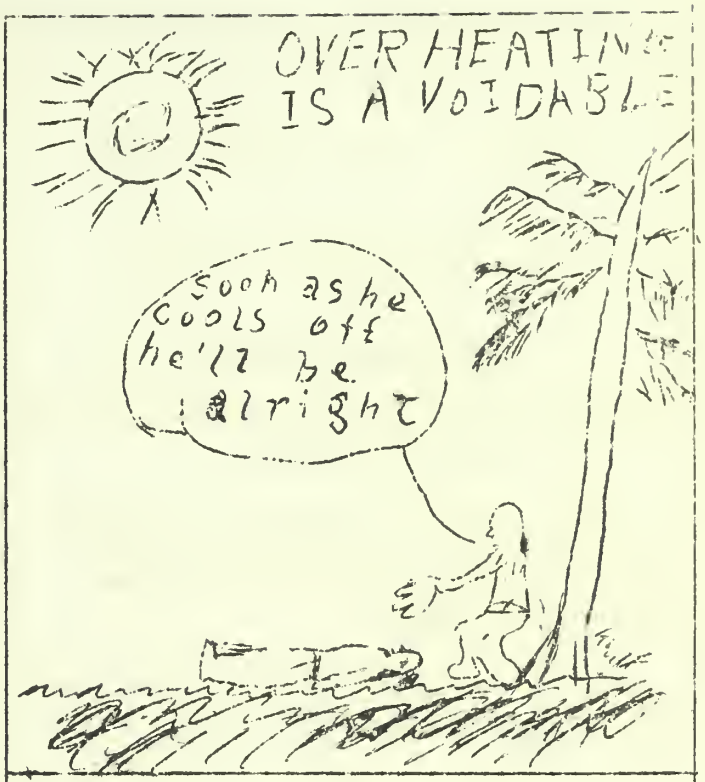
The safety meeting was called to order by R. E. Johnson first sergeant and the roll was called. After which Mr. Parnell made several announcements relative to the Educational Program in camp. Remarks were made concerning the camp news paper.

Captain Hall gave a short talk on sun stroke and overheating. He told about the causes and effect of both sunstoke and overheating, and warned the boys against getting to hot and staying in the sun without the proper cloting to protect their head and face.

Mr. Bacon then talked to the men stressing the necessity of observing safety rules. He made it very plain that there were no safety rules that were of no use or were not made for some reason. He also warned the men about overlooking the rules and advised them to take the very best care to observe every rule possible.

- - - - - - - -

Safety cannot be observed to closely. Every man should do his part towards seeing that every rule is carried out and be carefull not to bring miss fortune to one of his fellow workers by a careless act. Never work to clost to your partner. Always look before striking with a tool.



To prevent over heating eat plenty salt and wear proper clothing to keep head, face and neck shaded.
